

West German TO&Es 1980-1989 v1.8

(a) There were six Panzer Divisions in the Bundeswehr during the 1980s (1st, 3rd, 5th, 7th, 10th & 12th).

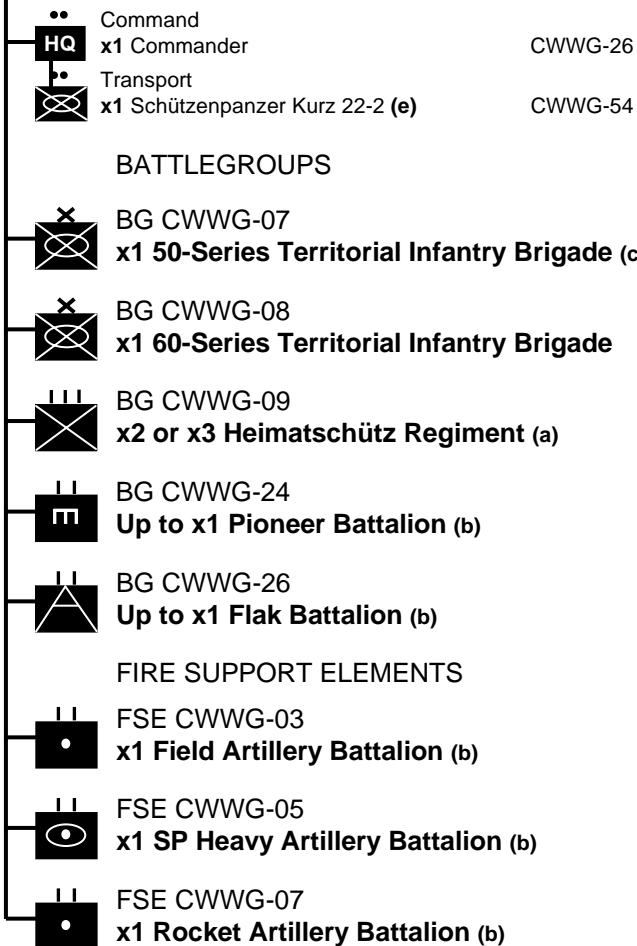

(b) The Bundeswehr comprised three standing Corps (1st, 2nd & 3rd) plus three Territorial Commands that would become Corps in wartime (Northern, Southern and Schleswig-Holstein). Corps assets include x1 Luftlande Brigade (BG CWWG-11), a Light Aviation Regiment with x24 UH-1D Utility Helicopters, a Medium Aviation Regiment with x16 CH-53G Transport Helicopters, an Attack Helicopter Regiment with x28 PAH-1 Attack Helicopters, x18 Flak Companies (ME CWWG-16), x9 SAM Batteries (ME CWWG-17), x4 Panzer Pioneer Battalions (BG CWWG-23), an Amphibious Engineer Battalion, a Bridging Battalion and a Tactical Nuclear Missile Battalion, as well as security and special forces elements. Of the Territorial Commands, only Schleswig-Holstein had corps assets.

(a) There were four Panzer-Grenadier Divisions in the Bundeswehr during the 1980s (2nd, 4th, 6th & 11th).

(b) The Bundeswehr comprised three standing Corps (1st, 2nd & 3rd) plus three Territorial Commands that would become Corps in wartime (Northern, Southern and Schleswig-Holstein). Corps assets include x1 Luftlande Brigade (BG CWWG-11), a Light Aviation Regiment with x24 UH-1D Utility Helicopters, a Medium Aviation Regiment with x16 CH-53G Transport Helicopters, an Attack Helicopter Regiment with x28 PAH-1 Attack Helicopters, x18 Flak Companies (ME CWWG-16), x9 SAM Batteries (ME CWWG-17), x4 Panzer Pioneer Battalions (BG CWWG-23), an Amphibious Engineer Battalion, a Bridging Battalion and a Tactical Nuclear Missile Battalion, as well as security and special forces elements. Of the Territorial Commands, only Schleswig-Holstein had corps assets.

BATTLEGROUP CWWG-03 Territorial Infantry Division 1980s

(a) The Schleswig-Holstein 'Territorial-Kommando' (i.e. Division) was the only territorial formation to have three such regiments. The others each had two.

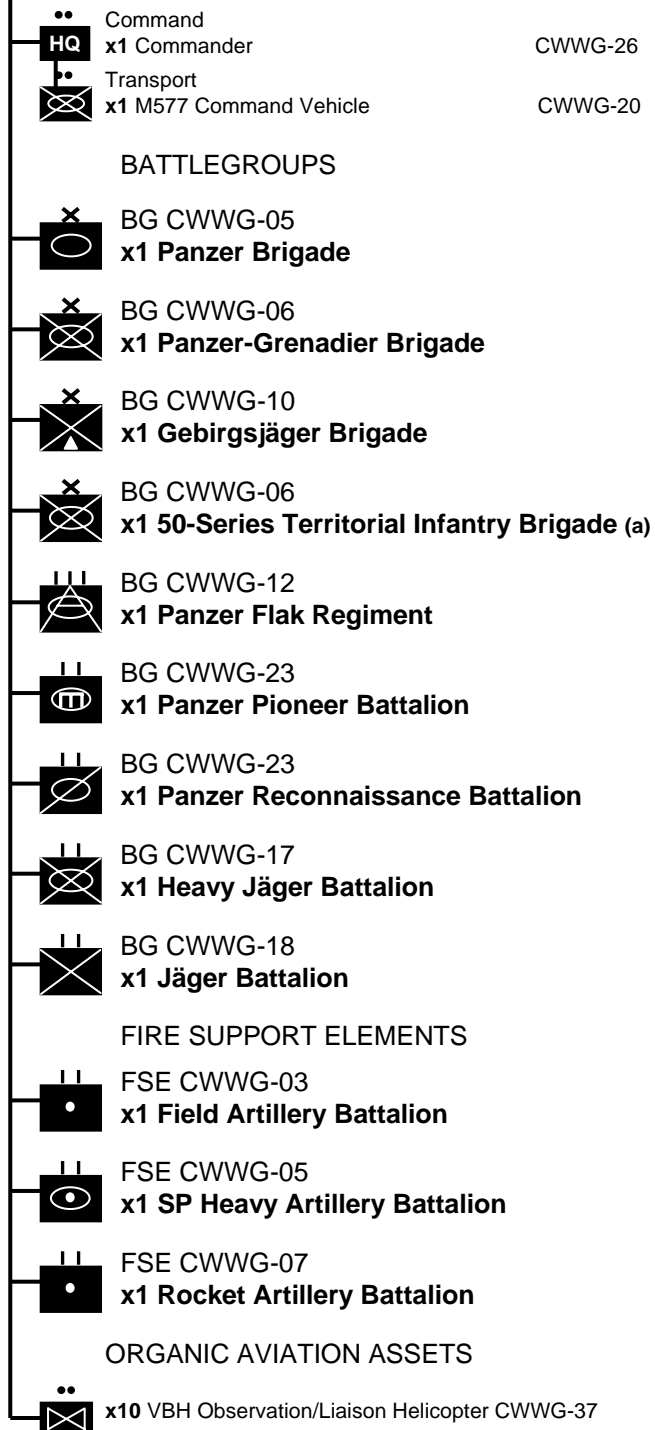

(b) Only the Schleswig-Holstein 'Territorial-Kommando' had these divisional assets permanently attached. The other formations would presumably be allocated such units from Corps assets in wartime.

(c) The Munich Territorial-Kommando's 50-Series Brigade was uniquely equipped with regular equipment, such as Leopards and Marders. However, it was assigned to reinforce the 1st Gebirgsjäger Division in wartime.

(d) Corps assets include x1 Luftlande Brigade (BG CWWG-11), a Light Aviation Regiment with x24 UH-1D Utility Helicopters, a Medium Aviation Regiment with x16 CH-53G Transport Helicopters, an Attack Helicopter Regiment with x28 PAH-1 Attack Helicopters, x18 Flak Companies (ME CWWG-16), x9 SAM Batteries (ME CWWG-17), x4 Panzer Pioneer Battalions (BG CWWG-23), an Amphibious Engineer Battalion, a Bridging Battalion and a Tactical Nuclear Missile Battalion, as well as security and special forces elements. Of the Territorial Commands, only Schleswig-Holstein had corps assets.

(e) Early 1980s: Replace SPz Kz 22-2 with:
M577 Command Vehicle CWWG-20

BATTLEGROUP CWWG-04 Gebirgsjäger (Mountain) Division 1980s

(a) The 56th Territorial Brigade was unique among Territorial units, in that it was assigned to a regular formation and had the equipment (Leopards and Marders) to match. However, it was assigned administratively to the Munich Territorial-Kommando, filling the 50-Series Brigade slot. It would therefore have left a large gap in that formation when assigned to the 1st Gebirgsjäger Division; essentially leaving the Munich Territorial-Kommando without an armoured reserve.

(b) For corps assets, see notes on other divisions.

FIRE SUPPORT ELEMENTS

-  FSE CWWG-01
x1 Panzer Artillery Battalion

(a) In 56th Territorial Brigade (1st Gebirgsjäger Division), replace Jäger Battalion and Heavy Jäger Battalion with:
x2 Panzer-Grenadier Battalion (BG CWWG-15)

(b) In 56th Territorial Brigade, replace Light Field Artillery Battalion with:
x1 Panzer Artillery Battalion (FSE CWWG-01)

(c) In 56th Territorial Brigade, add:
x1 Kanonenjagdpanzer Company (ME CWWG-02)
x1 Panzer Pioneer Company (ME CWWG-13)

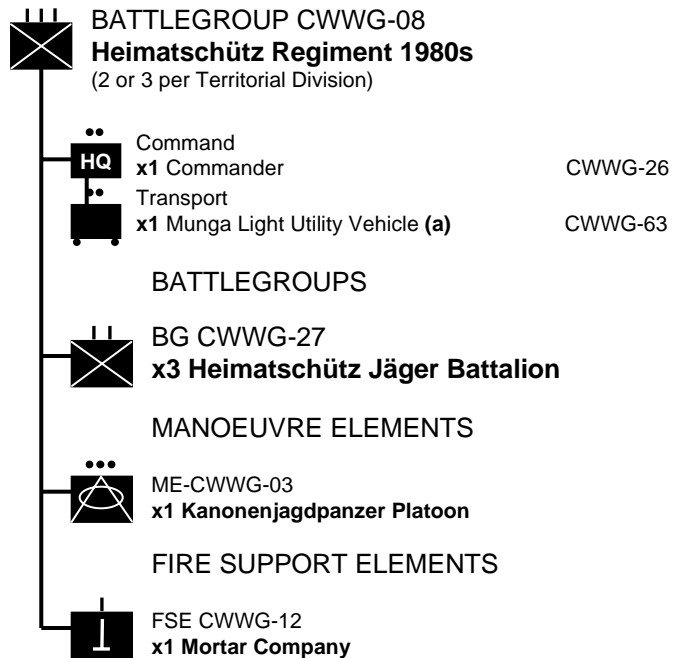

(d) Territorial Panzer Battalions were generally equipped with M48A2GA2 Patton tanks. However, some M48A2 Pattons remained in service until 1983, while the 56th Brigade was equipped with Leopard 1. Some sources suggest that as Leopard 2 came into service with regular units, Leopard 1s were 'cascaded' down to the 50-Series Territorial Brigades, so it's possible that other brigades might have had Leopard.

(e) Early 1980s: Replace SPz Kz 22-2 with:
 M577 Command Vehicle CWWG-20

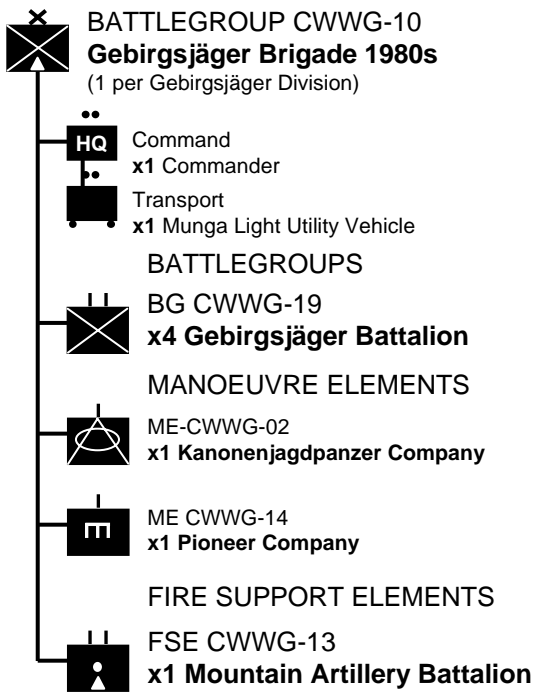

(a) Mid-1980s: Replace Munga with:
 Itlis Light Utility Vehicle CWWG-22

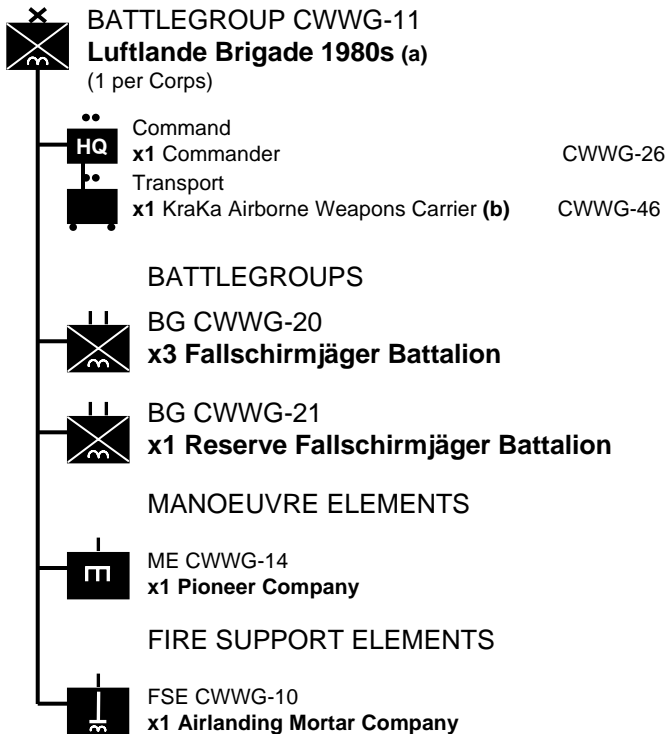

(b) Territorial Panzer Battalions were generally equipped with M48A2GA2 Patton tanks, though a very few M48A2 Pattons remained in service until 1983.

(a) Mid-1980s: Replace Munga with:
 Itlis Light Utility Vehicle CWWG-22

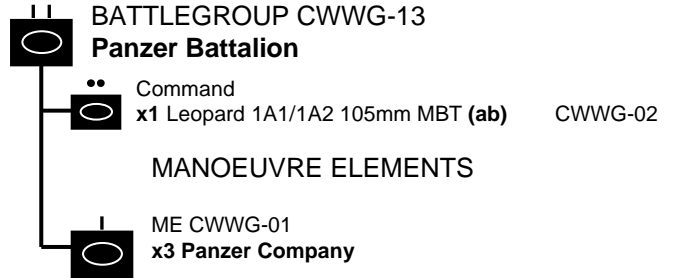

(a) Mid-1980s: Replace Munga with:
 Iltis Light Utility Vehicle CWWG-22

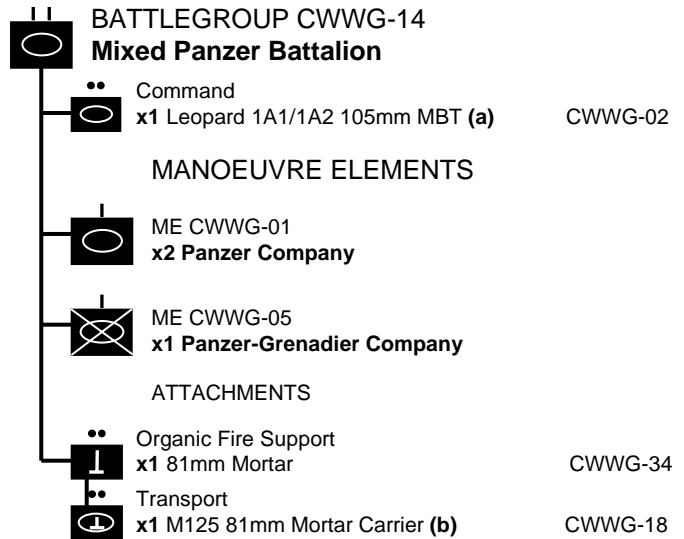

(a) There was a 1st Luftlande Division Headquarters, but it seems that this was only administrative and there were no divisional support elements permanently assigned. Three Luftlande Brigades operated independently, in support of each of the three West German Corps and one brigade was assigned to ACE Mobile Force. There is no reason to believe that a unified 1st Luftlande Division would have been formed in wartime.

(b) May replace KraKa with:
 Iltis Light Utility Vehicle (no MG) CWWG-22

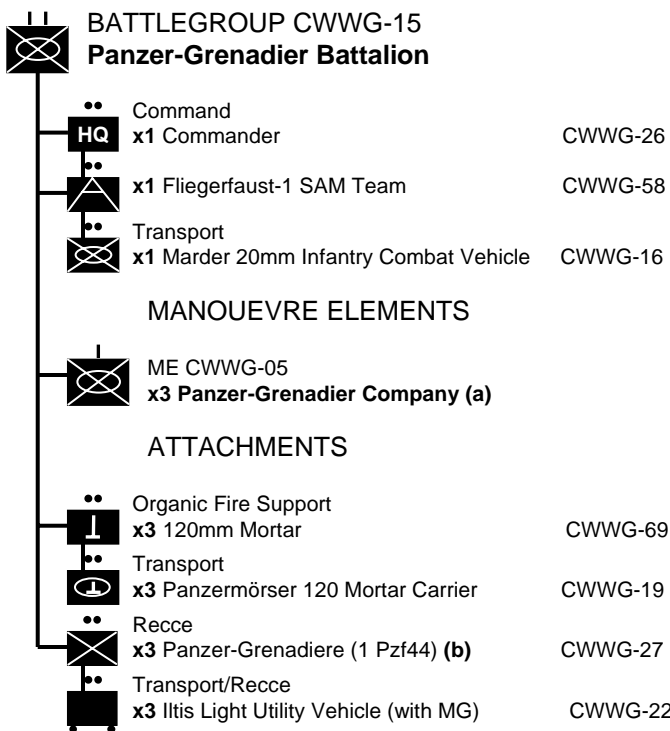

(a) May replace Leopard 1A1/1A2 with:
 Leopard 1A3/1A4 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-03
 Leopard 1A1A1/1A2A1 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-64
 Or from 1982, in Panzer Brigades (particularly in Panzer Divisions), with:
 Leopard 2 120mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-05
 Or from 1988 with:
 Leopard 1A5 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-04

(b) In Territorial Brigades (except 56th Brigade), replace Leopard 1 with:
 M48A2GA2 Patton 105mm Medium Tank CWWG-01
 Or in a very few units in the early 1980s with:
 M48A2 Patton 90mm Medium Tank CWWG-65

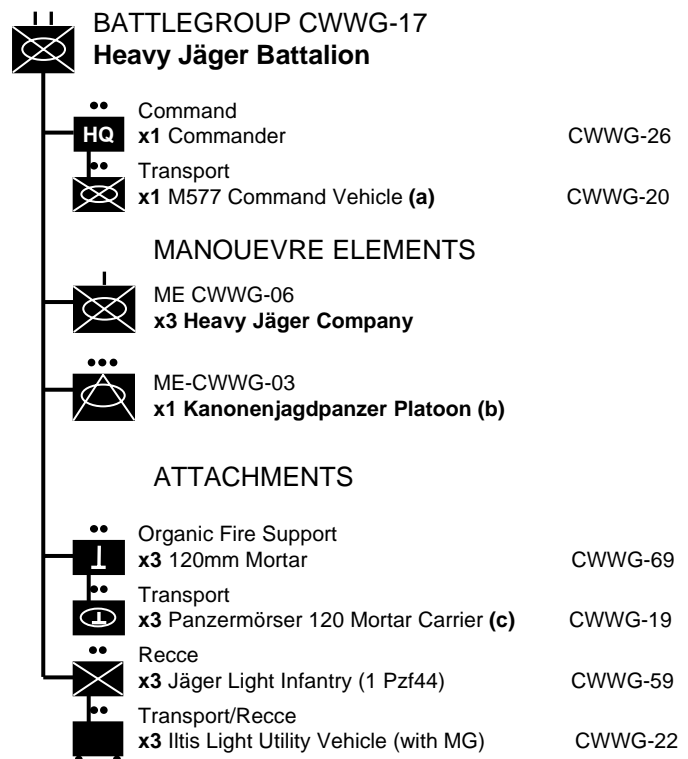

(a) May replace Leopard 1A1/1A2 with:
 Leopard 1A3/1A4 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-03
 Leopard 1A1A1/1A2A1 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-64
 Or from 1982 (particularly in Panzer Divisions) with:
 Leopard 2 120mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-05
 Or from 1988 with:
 Leopard 1A5 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-04

(b) Early 1980s: Some units persisted with obsolete vehicles. May therefore replace M125 with:
 Schützenpanzer Kurz 51-2 81mm Mortar Carrier CWWG-55

(a) In a battalion belonging to a Panzer-Grenadier Brigade, one of the companies is equipped with M113 instead of Marder (see ME CWWG-05).

(b) Late 1980s: May replace Panzerfäust 44 light antitank weapons with x2 Armbrust (see unit card).

(a) Early 1980s: Some units (particularly in reservist formations) persisted with obsolete vehicles. May therefore replace M577 with: Schützenpanzer Kurz 22-2 Command Vehicle CWWG-54

(b) The Jagdpanzer Platoon is only found in Jäger Battalions belonging to Territorial Divisions.

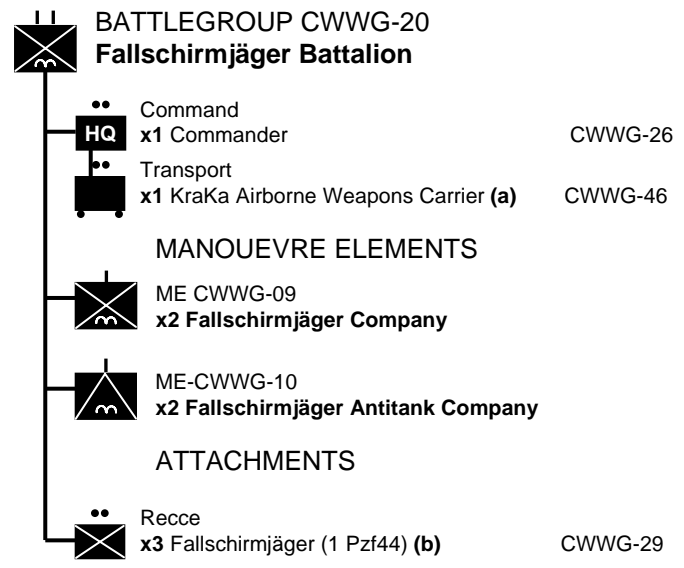

(c) Early 1980s: Some units (particularly in reservist formations) persisted with obsolete vehicles. May therefore replace Panzermörser 120 with: Schützenpanzer Lang 52-3 120mm Mortar Carrier CWWG-57

(a) Late 1980s: May replace Panzerfäust 44 light antitank weapons with x2 Armbrust light antitank weapon (see unit card).

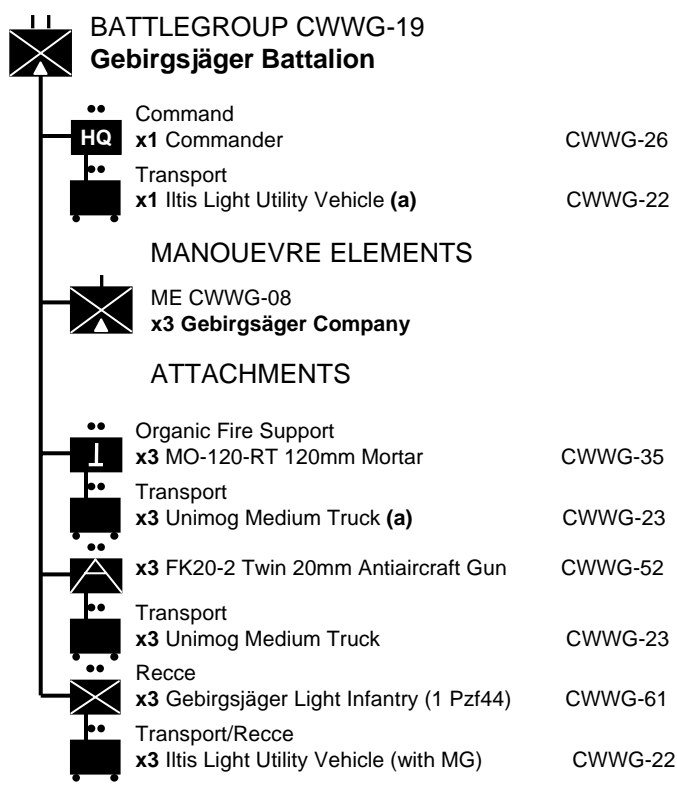

(a) The Jagdpanzer Platoon is only found in Jäger Battalions belonging to Territorial Divisions.

(a) May replace KraKa carrier with: Iltis Light Utility Vehicle (no MG) CWWG-22

(b) Late 1980s: May replace Panzerfäust 44 light antitank weapons with x2 Armbrust (see unit card).

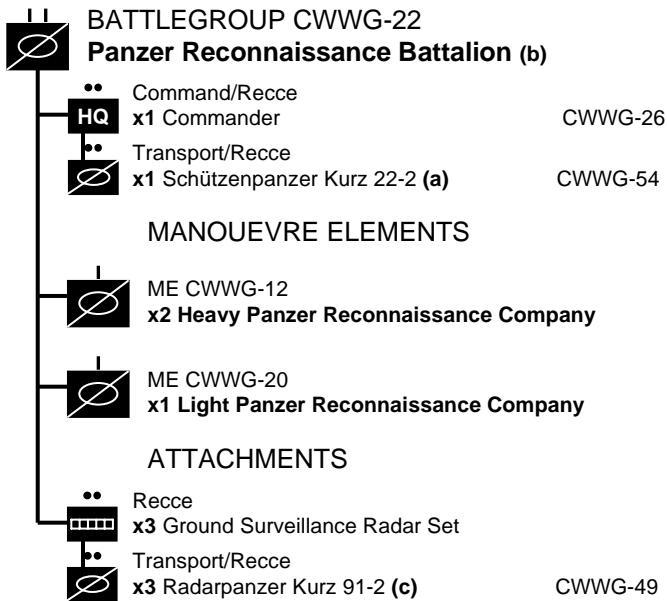

(a) In mountain warfare operations, delete trucks (pack mules were used to haul supplies, heavy weapons and equipment).

(a) Late 1980s: Replace KraKa carriers with: Iltis Light Utility Vehicle (no MG) CWWG-22

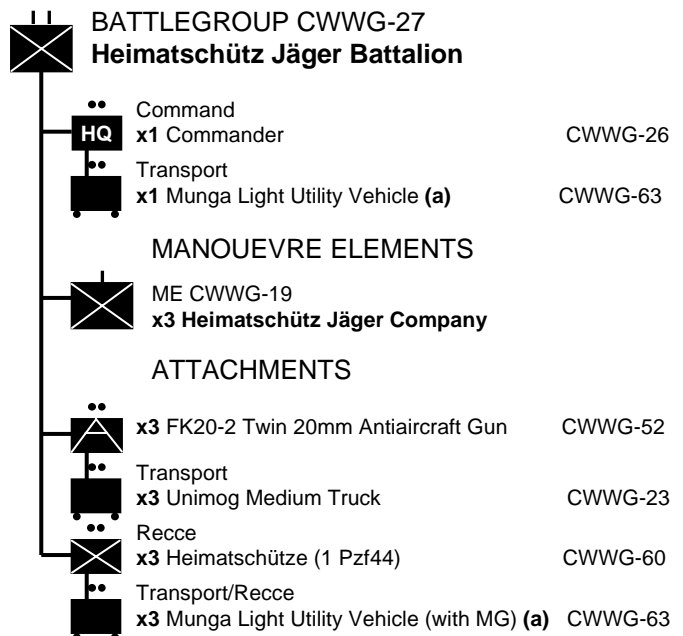

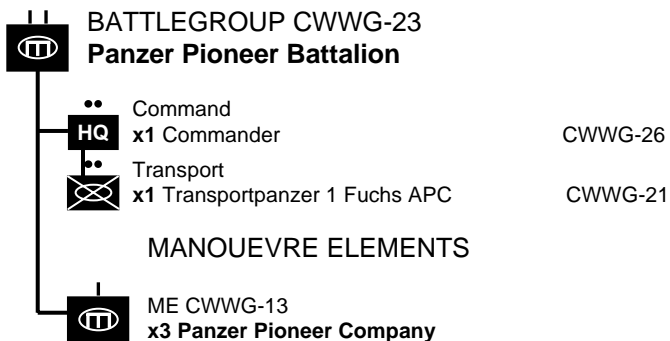

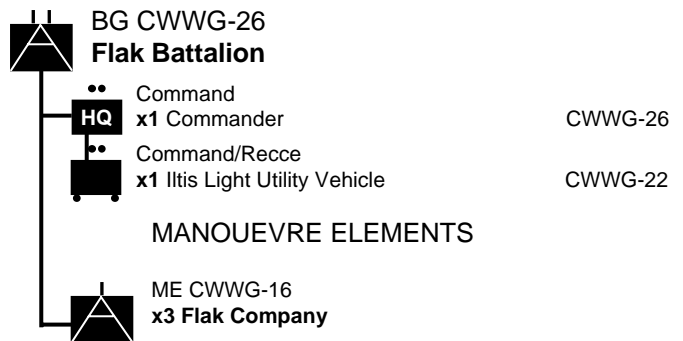

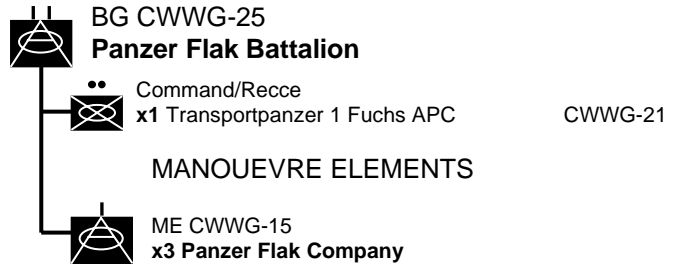

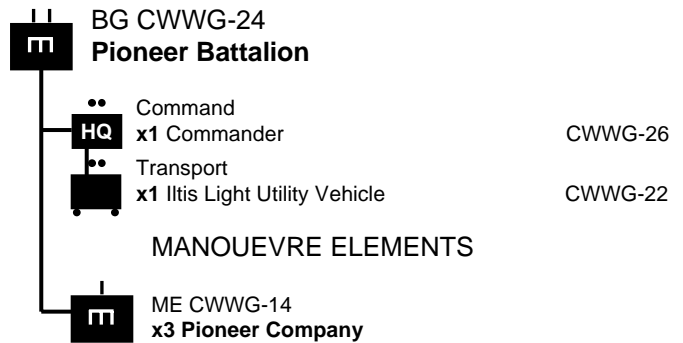

(b) Late 1980s: May replace Panzerfäust 44 light antitank weapons with x2 Armbrust (see unit card).

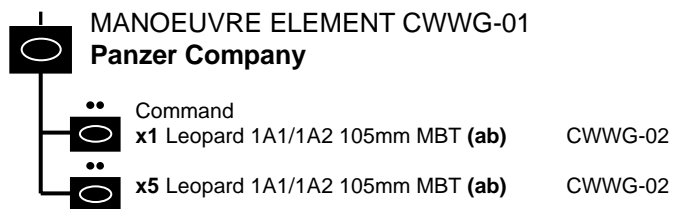

(a) Early 1980s: Replace transport vehicles with:
 Transportpanzer 1 Fuchs APC CWWG-21

(b) There is considerable disagreement between sources as to exactly how the divisional reconnaissance battalions were organised and this confusion is exacerbated by the fact that the Brigade Reconnaissance Platoons were held administratively by the divisional Reconnaissance Battalion in peacetime, so some sources count these platoons twice. It is also the case that in peacetime, vehicles of the same type were grouped within companies, whereas in war, they would be in mixed company groups. Given half a dozen conflicting sources, I have therefore given this TO&E my best guess.

(c) Mid 1980s: Replace Radarpanzer Kurz 91-2 with:
 Transportpanzer 1 Fuchs PARA Radar Vehicle CWWG-70

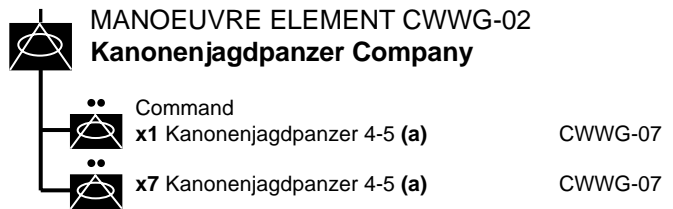

(a) Mid-1980s: Replace Munga with:
 Iltis Light Utility Vehicle CWWG-22

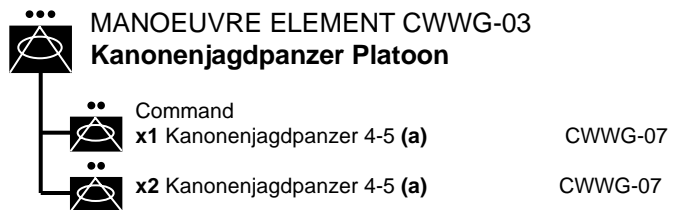

- (a) May replace Leopard 1A1/1A2 with:
 Leopard 1A3/1A4 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-03
 Leopard 1A1A1/1A2A1 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-64
 Or from mid-1980s, in Panzer Brigades (particularly in Panzer Divisions), with:
 Leopard 2 120mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-05
 Or from 1988 with:
 Leopard 1A5 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-04

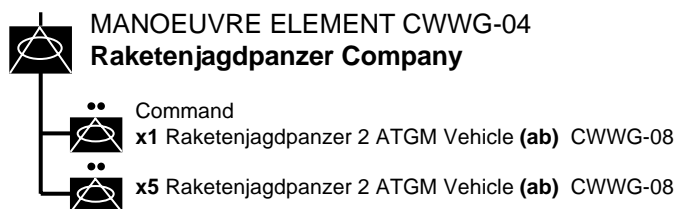

- (b) In Territorial Brigades (except 56th Brigade), replace Leopard 1 with:
 M48A2GA2 Patton 105mm Medium Tank CWWG-01
 Or in a very few units until 1983 with:
 M48A2 Patton 90mm Medium Tank CWWG-65

- (a) Late 1980s: May replace Kanonenjagdpanzer 4-5 with:
 M48A2GA2 Patton 105mm Medium Tank CWWG-01
 Or in Gebirgsjäger Brigades, with:
 Leopard 1A4 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-03

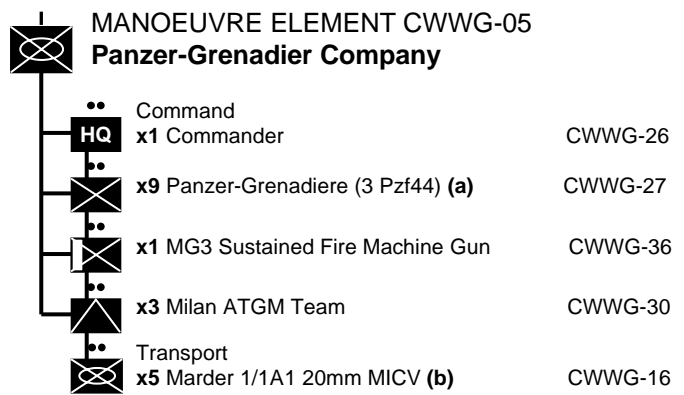

- (a) Late 1980s: May replace Jagdpanzer Kanone with:
 M48A2GA2 Patton 105mm Medium Tank CWWG-01

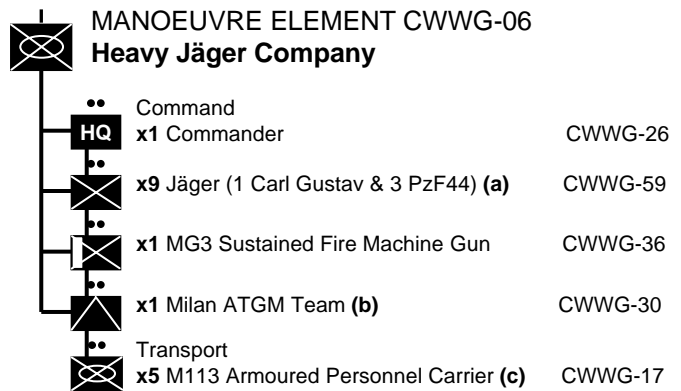

- (a) Early 1980s: In Panzer Brigades, replace RJPz 2 with:
 Jaguar 1 HOT ATGM Vehicle CWWG-09

- (b) From 1984: In Panzer-Grenadier Brigades, replace RJPz 2 with:
 Jaguar 2 TOW ATGM Vehicle CWWG-10

- (a) Three Squads are armed with Panzerfaust 44 light antitank weapons. In late 1980s, may delete Pzf 44 and instead equip x6 squads with Armbrust 67mm light antitank weapon (see unit card).

- (b) In a battalion belonging to a Panzer-Grenadier Brigade, one of the companies is equipped with M113 instead of Marder. Therefore, replace Marders with:
 M113 Armoured Personnel Carrier CWWG-17
 Note that Milan ATGMs may not be fired while mounted on M113s.

- (a) One Squad is armed with Carl Gustav 84mm MAWs, while three have Panzerfaust 44 light antitank weapons and the remainder have nothing.

- (b) Some reservist units might still be using obsolete antitank weapons. May therefore replace Milan with:
 SS-11 ATGM Team CWWG-31
 106mm Recoilless Rifle CWWG-32

- (c) Early 1980s: Some reservist units might not have received M113s. In which case, replace with:
 Schützenpanzer Lang 12-3 20mm APC CWWG-56

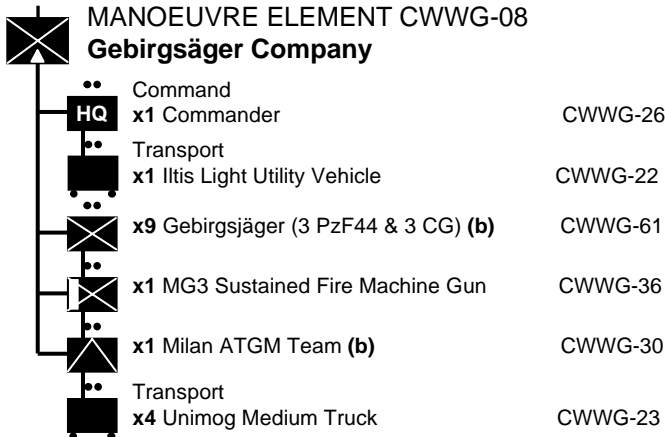

(a) Mid-1980s: Replace Munga with:
Iltis Light Utility Vehicle CWWG-22

(b) One Squad is armed with Carl Gustav 84mm MAWs, while three have Panzerfaust 44 light antitank weapons and the remainder have nothing.

(c) Some reservist units might still be using obsolete antitank weapons. In this case, replace Milan with:

SS-11 ATGM Team CWWG-31
106mm Recoilless Rifle CWWG-32

(a) Three squads are armed with Carl-Gustav 84mm MAW, while three are armed with Panzerfaust 44 and the remainder have nothing. Mid-1980s: Delete Carl-Gustavs and add:

x3 Milan ATGM Team CWWG-30

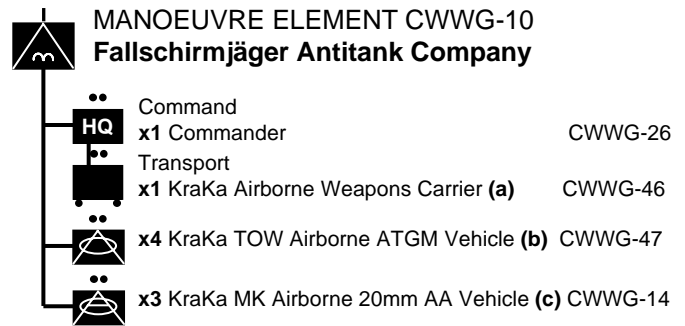

Note that there is already x1 Milan Team present.

(a) Mid-1980s: Delete the Panzerfaust 44 light antitank weapons of Fallschirmjäger squads and instead equip x6 squads with Armbrust 67mm light antitank weapon. See unit card.

(b) Milan ATGMs may be fired from vehicle when mounted.

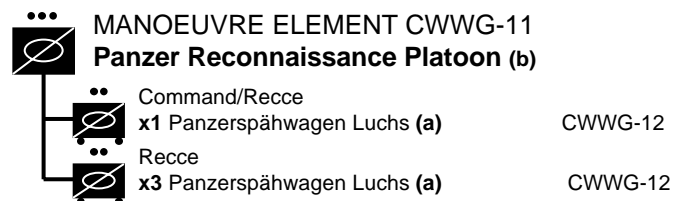

(c) In a non-airborne mission, the company may be motorised with:
x4 Unimog Medium Truck CWWG-23

(a) Late 1980s: Replace KraKa with:
Wiesel 1A0 MK 20mm Weapons Carrier (b) CWWG-51

(b) Late 1980s: Replace KraKa TOW with:
Wiesel 1A0 TOW ATGM Weapons Carrier CWWG-50

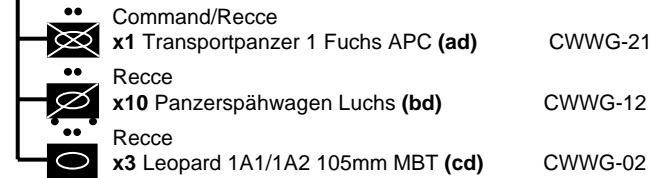

(c) Late 1980s: Replace Kraka MK with:
Wiesel 1A0 MK 20mm Weapons Carrier CWWG-51

(a) Early 1980s: Some units persisted in using obsolete vehicles. May therefore replace Luchs with:
Schützenpanzer Kurz 11-2 20mm Recce Vehicle CWWG-53

(b) Note that in peacetime these units formed a part of the divisional recce battalion. Consequently, they are counted twice in some sources.

MANOEUVRE ELEMENT CWWG-12
Heavy Panzer Reconnaissance Company

(a) Early 1980s: Some units persisted in using obsolete equipment. May therefore replace Fuchs with:

Schützenpanzer Kurz 22-2 Command Vehicle CWWG-54

(b) In units with obsolete equipment, replace Luchs with:

Schützenpanzer Kurz 11-2 20mm Recce Vehicle CWWG-53

(c) May replace Leopard 1A1/1A2 with:

Leopard 1A3/1A4 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-03

Leopard 1A1A1/1A2A1 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-64

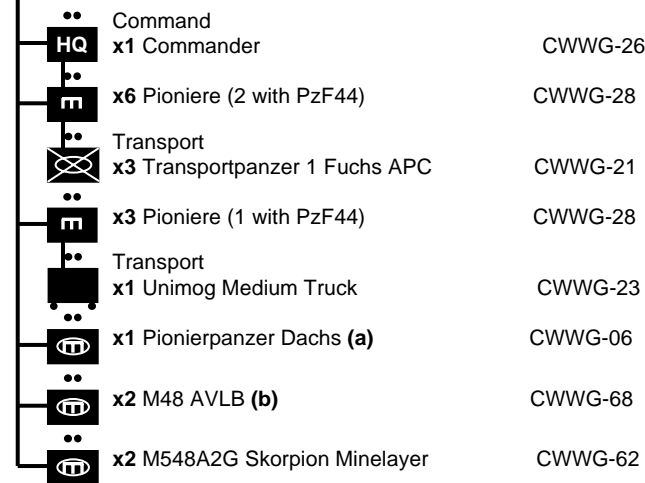

Or from 1988 with:

Leopard 1A5 105mm Main Battle Tank CWWG-04

It would appear that Panzer Recce Battalions did not receive the Leopard 2.

(d) By the late 1980s it would appear that this organisation was made much heavier, with the two Heavy Reconnaissance Companies in each battalion essentially becoming Panzer Companies, the Luchs armoured cars being moved to the Light Reconnaissance Company and the infantry element being reorganised as a fourth company... This needs further research!

MANOEUVRE ELEMENT CWWG-13
Panzer Pioneer Company

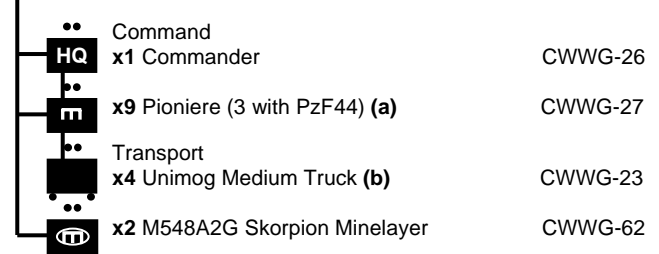

(a) During the early 1980s, a few units were issued with M48A2 dozer tanks in lieu of Pioneerpanzer Dachs. May therefore replace Dachs with:

Pionierpanzer M48A2 90mm Dozer Tank use CWWG-65

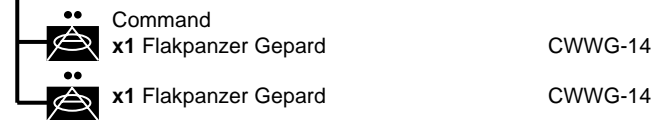

(b) May replace M48 AVLB with:

Biber AVLB CWWG-13

(e) By the late 1980s it would appear that the Panzer
Reconnaissance Battalion organisation was made much heavier, with the two Heavy Reconnaissance Companies in each battalion essentially becoming Panzer Companies, the Luchs armoured cars being moved to the Light Reconnaissance Company and the infantry element being reorganised as a fourth company... This needs further

Schützenpanzer Kurz 22-2 Command/OP Vehicle CWWG-54
M113 Armoured Personnel Carrier CWWG-17

(b) Late 1980s: Redundant Jagdpanzers were converted into artillery OP vehicles. May therefore replace OP vehicle with:
Beobachtungspanzer CWWG-11

(a) Early 1980s: Some units persisted in using obsolete vehicles.

May therefore replace OP vehicle with:

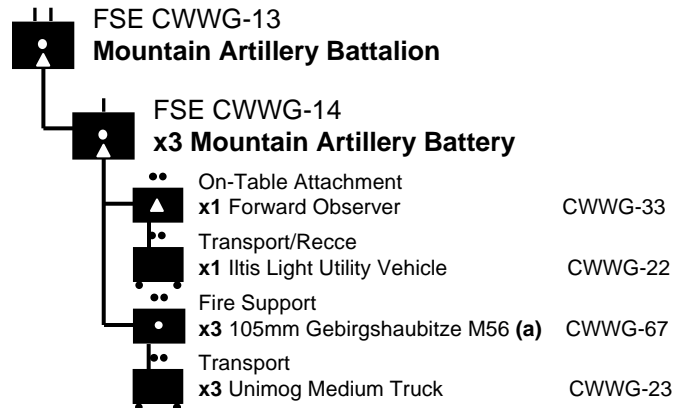

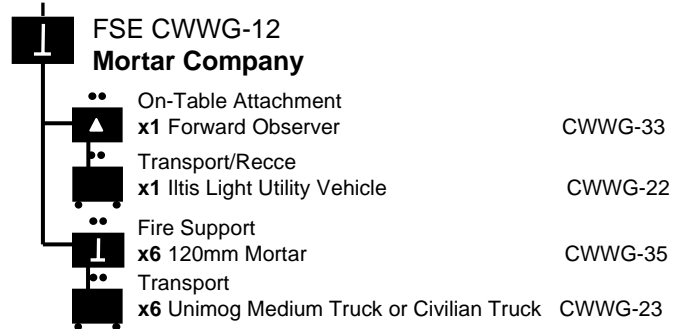

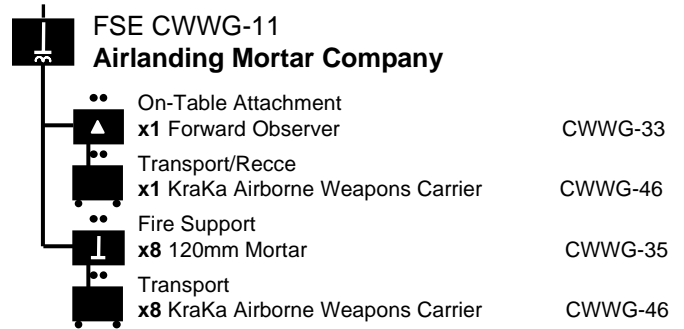

Schützenpanzer Kurz 22-2 Command/OP Vehicle CWWG-54
M113 Armoured Personnel Carrier CWWG-17

(a) Early 1980s: Some units persisted in using obsolete vehicles.

May therefore replace OP vehicle with:

Schützenpanzer Kurz 22-2 Command/OP Vehicle CWWG-54
M113 Armoured Personnel Carrier CWWG-17

(a) Late-1980s: The Mountain Artillery Battalions appear to have converted to FH-70 155mm Howitzers.
